JAPS COUNTER U.S. DEMAND TO STOP BOMBING

Insist Razing Of Nanking Absolutely Necessary

BULLETIN
Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Official circles received without surprise the Japanese reply to Secretary Hull's protest against the bombing of Chinese non-combatants.

Although no formal comment was forthcoming immediately, some disappointment was known to be felt over the lack of any specific guarantee by Japan to halt such air raids.

Tokyo, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The Japanese government today countered a firm American protest against the "unwarranted" bombardment of Nanking with the declaration that air raids to destroy the base of resistance at the Chinese capital were strategically necessary.

The short Japanese note of Sept. 22 was presented to Ambassador Joseph Grew and forwarded to the state department in Washington. The foreign office said that identical copies were handed to the British and French representatives in Tokyo. Both nations entered similar representations.

The formal American protest, made after verbal representations against Japan's announced intention to subject the Chinese capital to a mass aerial bombardment, charged the attacks were "unwarranted and contrary to principles of law and humanity."

The Japanese reply told Ambassador Grew that "as your government knows full well, Nanking is the base of China's military operations and reiterated the declaration of Japan's purpose to bomb military establishments both in and out of the city."

Japan asserted she did not intend to cause damage to non-combatants and had already avowed it was her policy to respect the lives and property of citizens of other nations.

JUNKS DESTROYED
Hongkong, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Systematic destruction of scores of Chinese junks at Swatow was reported today by the central (Chinese) News Agency.

Japanese from three warships seized and burned the junks yesterday, the agency said. Twenty fishermen arriving in Hongkong today told of a submarine appearing near Hoifung, September 22, ordering them to abandon their junks and then sinking them with shell fire.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS
Mrs. Wallace Seybert of this city sustained bruises this morning about 10 o'clock when her car was struck by a machine driven by Ernest Collins, Dixon, at Commercial Alley and Highland avenue. Both cars were damaged but the occupants were not seriously injured. Officers Glessner and Jones were summoned to the scene and investigated the accident.

Last evening about 7:30, a car driven by J. W. Miner of the Dixon state hospital and William Fischer of Wheaton, figured in a minor collision at East Fellows street and North Ottawa avenue. The cars were slightly damaged but the drivers were uninjured.

Appropriate Book
Rockford, Ill., Sept. 30.—(AP)—While reading a book entitled "How a Christian Must Be Prepared to Die," Andrew Bloomquist, 88, died suddenly yesterday in the study of his son, the Rev. E. C. Bloomquist, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Wrong Speech
Of the 10,000 or more people who watched the President make his back-platform speech at Cheyenne, one listened more intently than Senator Joe O'Mahoney.

It was a crucial occasion for Joe. At odds with the White House because of his opposition to the court bill and not invited to participate in the tour of his State, he had, nevertheless, dashed a thousand miles by auto across country to be in hand when the President arrived at his home town. A Cheyenne morning paper forecast a red-hot attack on the Supreme Court and thus, inferentially, a slap at Joe.

So Joe stood by the back platform, looking straight ahead and waiting for the worst. Of course, it never came. Roosevelt never had any intention of shaking the big stick at his party foes. His brief talk dealt with public works projects.

The President referred to the great Casper-Alcova dam—located at the other end of Wyoming near where he was to speak in the afternoon. After the speech was over, a friend remarked to O'Mahoney: "What's the matter, Joe? He didn't mention you."

"The President must have got his speeches mixed," grinned the Senator. "The one he just made is"

Nutty Pears

Enhardt, S. C., Sept. 30.—Duncan George grows pears with shells on them. Since a storm nine years ago blew a walnut tree in his yard over, on a pear tree, George said, he has harvested a fruit which is a cross between a walnut and a pear. George said the fruit resembles a pear but develops a walnut-like shell as it matures. He said it tasted more like a nut than a pear.

ROOSEVELT IS ON GOOD WILL CANADIAN TRIP

Leaves U. S. For First Time Since Peace Conference

Seattle, Sept. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt left American shores for a "good will" visit to Victoria, B. C., today, sailing on the destroyer Phelps in a peering, gusty rainstorm. He will return to the United States at Port Angeles, Wash., before nightfall.

Stormy weather tonight and tomorrow was ahead over the Olympia peninsula area, the planeedictor. Southeast storm warnings were ordered raised at all weather stations on the sound and along the coast.

The President was to spend the night at Lake Crescent, in the wilderness of Northern Peninsula country, and drive 200 miles tomorrow, enroute to the peninsula to Tacoma before returning to his special train.

The President, refreshed by two nights and a day of rest after his cross-country trip, breakfasted at the Lawtonwood home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, his son-in-law and daughter. A two-mile drive through the residential district took them to the pier at Smith Cove where the boarded the Phelps.

On today's trip the President left American territory for the first time since his Inter-American Peace Conference visit to Buenos Aires last November-December.

Second Trip to Canada
It was also his second good-will trip to Canada in 14 months. July a year ago he went to Quebec after a sailing cruise around Nova Scotia and held up his western hemisphere "good neighbor" policy as an example for the rest of the world.

The President's goal today on his three-hour journey across island-flecked Puget Sound was Victoria, on Vancouver Island.

In his party besides the first lady were Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger and the latter's two children, Eleanor and Curtis Dall; Sen. Lewis D. Schwellenbach; Sen. Homer T. Bone and Mrs. Bone, and Rep. M. C. Wallgren.

A royal salute from guards of honor was to signalize the President's arrival.

Lee Democratic Committee Met
The Lee county Democratic central committee met yesterday at Amboy with Chairman Sherwood Dixon presiding. Delegates and alternates were elected to attend the Democratic judicial nominating convention to be held at Oregon on Oct. 15 as follows:

Delegates—William Daum, Martin J. Judge, Albert H. Hanneken, Albert Butler, F. W. Meyer, August J. Gehant, William A. Keho, James P. Dempsey, Rex Bradshaw, Joseph P. McGrath, Sherwood Dixon, John P. Devine, Edward A. Jones and Edward M. Sullivan.

Alternates—John Armstrong, J. C. Ryan, Jacob Ackebrenner, C. A. Tesson, Clarence Herrmann, Alvin Deig, Louis Jahn, Leo N. Lehman, Edward Tyne, J. R. Fitzsimmons, Conrad Zimmerman and Charles E. Kelley.

Extra! Extra! Drudgery Is Taken Out of Life of Expert Trombonist
Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—At last an inventor has come forward with a contraption to take forever the drudgery out of slide trombone playing.

The patent office issued today to Antonio Adriani of New York a patent for a sawed-off slip-bomb, referred to technically as a "short-positioned trombone."

The long reach of the trombone, throughout the years, has caused the trombonist considerable anguish both mental and physical.

1. It has barred many short men from the field.

2. The trombonist, pictured in the act of knocking off someone's hat as he reached for a bass note, has been the prey of the cartoonist.

3. Because of the real danger of poking the front row trade in the face, the opera house and theater trombonist has been playing in the shadow of the footlights for decades. But all that should be ended now.

By the simple expedient of short coupling the horn, inventor Adriani has done away with what looks from his blue prints to be about half the sweep of the instrument.

Today's patent list also showed that inventors have been thinking about swimmers as well as slide trombonists.

Andrew Glad, of Donovan, Ill., was granted a patent for something that looks like a giant duck's foot. The water enthusiast slips his feet into a pair of the gadgets, leaps in and kicks.

Those who have tried it say it makes you go like the dickens.

FIANCE JOINS FAMILY VIGIL AT MAGUIRES'

Was Prince In Life Of Modern Sleeping Beauty

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The prince in the real-life story of the sleeping beauty, Patricia Maguire, was bowed with grief today.

James Burns, a young jewelry salesman to whom Pat was engaged when she was taken ill with sleeping sickness in 1932, joined the family in their vigil beside the casket in her home.

During the long course of Pat's illness—five years and seven months—she was a constant caller at the home, hoping with the mother, Mrs. Peter Miley, that his fiancée would one day fully recover consciousness.

Now that the struggle has been lost, Mrs. Miley discussed the romance, a secret the family had guarded during the girl's helpless puzzling semi-slumber. "Yes," Mrs. Miley said, "they were engaged, but had never announced it and for this reason we all decided not to discuss the matter—until, well, until Pat had recovered."

Burns said he met Pat in 1928 through his sister, Mrs. Catherine Reulman, with whom he lives in suburban Elmhurst not far from Oak Park where Pat lived with her mother, step-father and her sister, Mrs. Gladys Hansen.

Brain Treasured
Patricia's brain was treasured by Medical Science today for its potential value in opening new channels for treating sleeping sickness.

From microscopic study of the organ physicians hoped to gain more knowledge of lethargic encephalitis—the baffling ailment which kept the 32-year-old stenographer in a 67-months slumber.

Dr. Eugene Traut disclosed a post mortem, performed shortly after Miss Maguire's death from pneumonia Tuesday night, provided only one new discovery which, he said, "may be the first step toward control of the disease."

Physicians found the frontal lobe of the girl's brain, which controls speech and movements of the tongue, head and eyes, had withered. Dr. Traut said the atrophied condition never before resulted from sleeping sickness.

West Brooklyn Man Injured In Truck Collision

(Telegraph Special Service)
West Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—Theodore Vincent of West Brooklyn sustained a fractured jaw and other painful injuries at 8 o'clock this morning when a truck he was driving collided with another truck loaded with milk for the local cheese factory and driven by Junior Smith of this place. The collision occurred at Yocum's corner, one mile north of West Brooklyn, on the new spur paving. Vincent was thrown from the cab of his truck when the two heavily loaded machines collided. He was taken at once to the Harris hospital at Mendota where he received medical attention. Smith escaped without a scratch.

Vincent was reported to have been driving south toward West Brooklyn with a truck loaded with milk. Junior Smith, it was said, drove onto the spur paving from the west with a truck loaded with milk for the local cheese factory. Vincent's truck crashed into the rear of the Smith truck, turning it over and the entire load of milk was spilled along the side of the road. Vincent's heavily loaded truck was almost demolished in the crash.

Sheriff Miller received the report of the theft last evening and went to the Magnusson farm this morning to investigate. Lee Sheriff Has Recovered Number Articles Taken From Parked Autos
Sheriff Ward Miller was today seeking the owners of several stolen articles taken from parked cars he found in the rooms of Clifford Lyles, who is in the Whiteside county jail at Morrison where he was visited by the Lee county sheriff yesterday afternoon and questioned. Lyles is said to have told Sheriff Miller where he obtained several of the articles but was unable to give dates of the rifling of parked cars.

A valuable woolen blanket, with a letter "S" embroidered in one corner, an ordinary horse blanket and a woman's green scarf were taken from a parked car near Amboy, Lyles is quoted as stating, in describing the manner in which he came into possession of some of the articles. He was unable to state how long ago these articles were taken. A vest pocket kodak in a black leather case, nine films being exposed, was taken from a car parked at the Rainbow Inn west of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway about three weeks ago, it was reported. Two new cotton blankets, Lyles could not account for, it was said.

Sheriff Miller is anxious to return the stolen property to the owners, which is held at the office at the county jail, where it may be obtained upon application and description.

Several articles, nursing supplies and first aid equipment, used in the first aid station at the Dixon Horse Show at the Airport in August and stolen from an automobile parked at the Rainbow Inn, have been recovered and returned to the owners by the sheriff.

Ruse Failure

Baltimore, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Ida No. 1 is not dead and is the same person as Ida No. 2—so Hyman London went to jail for 10 days.

London escaped responsibility for a $66.58 debt of his wife, Ida, by testifying she was dead, but that he had married again, this time to another Ida.

Later, court officials discovered both Idas were the same. London was sentenced on a perjury charge.

BLACK TO SPEAK ON NATIONWIDE HOOKUP FRIDAY

Subject of Speech Has Not Been Announced

Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Kenneth H. Berkley, general manager of the National Broadcasting Company here, announced Justice Hugo L. Black would speak from Washington over the nationwide facilities of NBC, CBS and MBS Friday night from 8:30 to 9:00 o'clock C. S. T.

The announcement of Black's plans was made to newspapermen in the office of the broadcasting company after Berkley had talked with Clifford Durr, an RFC attorney and brother-in-law of Mrs. Black.

While the subject of the speech was not announced, broadcasting officials said they assumed it would deal with allegations Black had been and still is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The place from which the justice will speak has not been decided, Berkley said. It may be the broadcasting studio, his home, a hotel, or his office in the Supreme Court building.

Arrives in Norfolk
Upon his arrival in Norfolk, Va., yesterday, the justice told two score newsmen that whenever he had any statement to make on the Klan charges he would "make it in a way that can not be misquoted and so the nation can hear it with ease."

Whether Black consulted with President Roosevelt before making up his mind to give his side of the case over the air could not be learned, but few observers believed it likely that he had made his decision without presidential knowledge of his intentions.

The newly-named jurist and his wife spent last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Durr, near suburban Alexandria, Va.

This morning Black was up early and left the residence. Friends indicated he might visit his office in the Supreme Court building during the day.

There appeared to be no question that the justice would take his seat on the bench Monday when the court resumes after a summer recess.

Big Yields Make Flood District Farmers Thankful

Countdowns, Ill.—(AP)—Gallatin county farmers took time out today from a bumper corn harvest to give thanks to northern and central Illinois farmers who donated seed last spring to this flood-stricken river country.

Regional Hearings On Crop Legislation Planned For Farmers
Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Ellison D. Smith (D-S. C.) of the Senate agriculture committee announced today a tentative schedule for a group of regional hearings by the committee to sound out farmer sentiment on 1938 crop legislation.

Committee members who will accompany Smith on the tour are Senators Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) John H. Bankhead (D-Ala.) A. Harry Moore (D-N. J.) and Allen J. Ellender (D-La.).

Morning and afternoon sessions of two hours each are planned at each stop except Winston-Salem, N. C., where a single three-hour hearing will be held October 18. The tentative schedule included: October 29-30, Springfield, Ill. (arrive 10:45 A. M. October 29, leave 3:04 P. M. October 30)

ASSOCIATION KILLS BLACK INQUISITION

Debate Membership in Secret Organizations

Kansas City, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The American Bar association today definitely killed an investigation of the appointment of Justice Black but, in heated debate, directed further study of a proposed condemnation of membership in "secret, oath bound" organizations as incompatible with the position of Supreme Court justices.

The assembly of the association, almost evenly divided, instructed the resolutions committee to make a joint study of the secret order resolution and of a suggestion, made by Leece Rosenthal of Chicago, that the Bar association go on record favoring mandatory public hearings in the Senate on all further Supreme Court nominations.

An original resolution by Robert Lee Tullis, former dean of Louisiana State university's law school, not only criticized oath-bound orders "actuated by religious and racial animosity as incompatible with membership in the Supreme Court," but proposed a Bar association committee of five be appointed to ascertain the "relevant facts in regard to the latest appointee."

Cannot Take Action
The resolutions committee reported to the assembly "there is nothing now pending in respect of which the association could take any definite action," and recommended the Tullis investigation be rejected.

The resolution was killed while Rep. Hattin Summers, Texas Democrat, outlined a "battalion of death" to fight for constitutional government.

Summers, chairman of the House judiciary committee and powerful figure in the recent Supreme Court battle, clarified to reporters a section of a speech in which he asked: "Are you willing to join a battalion of death to save the Constitution and government?"

Summers told newsmen he was not particularly referring in that sentence to the court fight or any controversial issue.

Court Fight Stirring Interest
"What I am getting at is fundamental. I believe that the court controversy—as such as I tried to avoid it—has proven of far more good than injury in stirring up an interest in government and making the people think—getting them on the job."

"The time has come when individuals cannot consider the cost of themselves or their political fortunes."

Summers talked to reporters as he was climbing into his automobile this morning.

BELIEVES ISSUE DEAD
Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Gen. Henry F. Ashurst, who as chairman of the Judiciary Committee led President Roosevelt's fight for reorganization of the federal courts, said in an interview today he believed the issue dead.

Replying to a question as to whether he expected the court bill to come before the next session of Congress, Ashurst referred to a mimeographed page he said was taken from an entry in his diary the day Congress adjourned.

It concluded: "It would seem as if Eff Dee's (Franklin D. Roosevelt's) bill to rejuvenate the judicial branch is now moribund as a result of these late decisions which go as far to the left as any justice appointed by Eff Dee could go."

Ashurst said he would not support "any proposition or constitutional amendment which would take from the courts the power to declare laws unconstitutional."

"If the courts were shorn of that power," he said, "we wouldn't have constitutional government."

Regional Hearings On Crop Legislation Planned For Farmers
Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Ellison D. Smith (D-S. C.) of the Senate agriculture committee announced today a tentative schedule for a group of regional hearings by the committee to sound out farmer sentiment on 1938 crop legislation.

LABOR POLICY ALONG BRITISH LINES IS URGED

Col. Frank Knox Asks Registration Of All Unions

Chicago—A sound American labor policy—one of the great needs in the current economic situation—should have two main clauses, Col. Frank Knox told the Rotary club Tuesday: registration of unions and a rule for appointment of a board of inquiry in all strikes.

Both elements, said Col. Knox, publisher of The Daily News, have proved of greatest importance in the relations between British labor and British capital, and both, he said, would have the support of capital and labor in this country.

The luncheon, held in the Hotel LaSalle, brought out an unexpectedly large attendance, which punctuated the 40-minute address with several rounds of applause.

"Doesn't Mean Incorporation"

"The requirement that all labor unions be registered," Col. Knox said, "means that the labor union would have legal status. It does not involve incorporation. In Great Britain they are registered as 'friendly societies,' which would be corporations not for profit" here. The result of such a registration is that they must account for every dollar collected from the membership and there is no better protection for the union members against the racketeering we are familiar with here.

"A second provision of the English labor law which could be adopted here is that which imposes on the government the duty of naming a nonpartisan, high-class board of inquiry, totally dissociated from the parties involved, whenever an important strike impends.

"Its duty is to assemble all the facts and to make public its findings. In England not long ago I watched a strike of 60,000 bus drivers in London settled by that machinery; the day after the findings were published, the men went back to work."

Responsibility for Damages

Another provision of English law he cited as having a favorable result on labor-capital relations was one protecting unions from damages resulting from legal strikes, but fixing on them and on every member responsibility for damages from illegal strikes, plus punishment by fine or imprisonment. Illegal strikes include, Col. Knox said, the so-called sympathetic strike and strikes intended to coerce the government.

A fourth is the law forbidding the use of union funds for political purposes.

"British labor leaders helped draft the English law," Col. Knox said. "They knew it would protect them and their funds and give them legal status never attained before. On both sides I found uniform approval of the law."

Elgin Watch Firm Wages Increased 2 Cents Per Hour

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—The 3,500 employees of the Elgin National Watch Company have been notified that effective Friday their wages would be increased by from 3 to 5 cents an hour.

P. E. Stringer, general superintendent, said the raises, the second in a year and a half, would add $250,000 to the annual payroll which he estimated now to be $4,000,000. The employees' bargaining representatives presented a petition August 4 requesting increased wages.

Besides the two raises since April 1, 1936, the company last spring announced a profit-sharing plan for employees, plus vacations with pay.

WAGE-HOUR CONTROL SUBVERSIVE

(Sphere Magazine)

Nothing could be more suicidal than to set up a Federal control of wages and hours. Not only does geography prevent, but the scheme is a return to just the system that our forefathers fled from in Europe. They wanted economic freedom quite as much as they demanded religious freedom. How wise they were, the event has shown.

Should Washington control the plantings, the hours, and the wages, then Washington would control everything. That day the American system perishes—and woe to the world if it does perish.

In infancy, man's temperature is higher than in adolescence, falling again from adolescence to middle age. Middle age passed, it begins to rise, until at 80 years of age it is the same as in infancy.

HIS BLACK MONUMENT

William Allen White of the Emporia (Kas.) Gazette, most of his life a New Dealer in various shades, notes the disclosures by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette concerning Justice Hugo Black and makes comment. A series of observations are concluded:

"When Franklin Roosevelt is dead and buried and all his bones are rotted, the fact that he played around with Black and appointed to the highest honorable office in American life a man who was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, who even could be charged with being a member of the Ku Klux Klan, as Black was charged when Roosevelt named him; well, as we started to say, when Roosevelt is dead and gone he will be remembered in the history of this day and time by the fact that he was not above dishonoring the supreme court by putting a Klansman there."

DOESN'T LIKE THE SAMPLE

Organized labor has been so closely allied with President Roosevelt that it generally accepted the proposal to pack the supreme court as another gift from the skies.

Now it is looking at the new court the president was given power to appoint, and so far as the American Federation of Labor is concerned, it doesn't like it.

What President Roosevelt would be likely to do if he were given a chance to appoint six new members of the supreme court is illustrated glowingly in the case of the national labor relations board. This board has been under attack ever since it became apparent what its disposition was. Finally the thing got so bad that the American Federation of Labor began to complain.

It so happened that the American Federation of Labor was vitally interested, and it also happened that it had the wrong end of the labor board's decisions.

In other words, the federation doesn't like the sample of appointment of judicial bodies that President Roosevelt has given it.

Even that doesn't take into account the appointment of Hugo Black to the supreme court of the United States.

'RULE OF REASON' IN TRAFFIC

Constitutionality of the law pertaining to reckless driving of automobiles is being questioned by general counsel of the Chicago Motor club in an appeal to the Illinois supreme court.

The law provides:

"Any person who drives any vehicle with a wilful or wanton disregard for safety of persons or property is guilty of reckless driving."

Counsel for the defendant, in his brief filed with the upper court, says:

"When the legislature undertakes to create by statute a new offense and provides for its punishment, it should express its will in language that is definite so that a person might know with certainty when he is committing the offense. No one can, with any certainty, know when he is violating this section of the traffic code."

Most of us will subscribe to the policy set forth by defendant's counsel. We should like to know whether or not we are liable under the law, and, if so, for what particular act or offense.

If a man is charged with murder, the indictment must say whether the offense was committed by use of powder and bullet or committed by use of poison. The prosecutor can't just go fishing in the testimony to find out what should be charged. If he has charged that the victim was shot, he can't get a conviction on proof that the defendant committed murder by use of poison.

But murder is an old crime and trials therefor are hedged about with early restrictions in the law. Now we take our laws and administration of them much more loosely. Particularly is that true when we allow bureaucrats in the capitals to make the laws, file the charges under them, and then to determine, as judges, whether or not we have violated the laws they made.

There was that oil case in Texas, the first setback of the New Deal in the supreme court of the United States. The law, as we recall it, had been intended to be one way, but in its final form it did not turn out that way. It was changed, but the alleged offense was before the change. Yet the government undertook to prosecute business men in those circumstances, although in the proof was the fact that there was only one copy of the law in Texas and that was in the pocket of the administrator.

Yet everybody is presumed to know the law, and we live under the old legal proverb that ignorance of the law excuses no man.

We recall Theodore Roosevelt's averment that there are good trusts and bad trusts, meaning, of course, that good trusts should not be prosecuted under the anti-trust laws and that bad trusts should. Just how a trust was to decide whether it was a good trust or a bad trust never was made clear. Perhaps the good trusts are the ones that contribute to the campaign fund or buy books with the president's name on them at $250 a copy.

Even the supreme court, in considering anti-trust cases, said there was a "rule of reason" by which conduct of corporations should be measured in determining whether or not they were operating in restraint of trade.

In one of its latest decisions on New Deal legislation, the court has left open the issue as to which corporations are engaged in interstate commerce and which are not. There is no line of demarcation by which the corporation or its counsel may determine for itself. Everybody buys something in interstate commerce, but nobody knows how much buying or selling in interstate commerce is indicative that the business is subject to regulation under the guise of regulation of interstate commerce.

So, we seem to have moved a long way from the place where the citizen may know when he is violating the law. He can find out only after it all is over.

The motor club probably better be satisfied with a law that is made by the legislature, under which prosecutions are by the prosecuting attorney, and guilt is determined either by a jury or by the judge who fixes the penalty, even if the law is a little loose. Our greatest difficulty now is escaping laws that are made by bureaucrats, under which prosecution is by the same bureaucrats, and the guilt is determined and the penalty is fixed by the same bureaucrats who make the laws and file the complaints.

Of course, all that doesn't make it any more violent for the driver who doesn't know when he is violating the law.

KIPKE FORCED TO REVISE HIS BATTLE PLANS

May Save Veterans For 3 Hardest Contests

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 30—(AP)—Injuries and some brilliant practice performances have forced Harry Kipke to revise some of his plans to life the Michigan Wolverines from the gridiron doldrums.

At the start of the task of building the head coach's ninth Michigan team, the emphasis was placed on sophomore talent. A couple of "half-pint" halfbacks, an outstanding tackle and a fine defensive center were hailed as leading an array that promised an upturn in Wolverine football fortunes.

Then came an intra-squad game when veteran performers stole the show.

Three tremendous obstacles to a successful season lie immediately ahead of the Wolverines, and it is possible that veterans will get the call to action against Michigan State, Northwestern and Minnesota.

"I'll let the others warm the bench until they relax and then put them on the field," Kipke said. Kipke's big problem—the filling of spots left open by graduation and ineligibility in the backfield and the line—apparently have been solved satisfactorily.

Shifts Line Material

He shifted 206-pound Fred Janke from tackle to fullback to replace the graduated Cedric Sweet and put little Hercules Renda, a five-foot-four, 152-pound sophomore, at the right halfback post which ineligible Johnny Smithers held last year.

The running halfback position has been held by Fred Trosko, a triple-threat sophomore whose susceptibility to injury makes him a question mark. He weighs 155 pounds, but, unlike Renda, he is not stocky.

At the quarterback post Doug Farmer, a senior, has replaced Bill Barclay, last year's field general, because of a weight advantage needed in blocking.

Veterans whose speed and power may win them a starting call include Norm Purucker, Stark Ritchie, Bob Cooper and Wally Hook, halfbacks; Barclay Quarter, and Ed Stanton and Norm Nickerson, fullbacks.

Kipke isn't worried over the line. Hearty (Hunk) Anderson has prepared. The former Notre Dame head coach, hired last winter, has improved the blocking, tackling and timing.

Ends Improving

The ends, not as strong as in other years but improving fast, are Art Valpey and John Nicholson or Elmer Gedeon. Gedeon can pass and punt, and can run faster than any one on the squad.

The tackles are well fortified with Don Siegel and Bill Smith, a sophomore, both 200-pounders, and the guards, Fred Olds, Ralph Heikinen and Forrest Jordan, are top-notch.

Capt. Joe Rinaldi, a capable passer, is the center, but coming along fast is Archie Kodros, a sophomore adept at backing up a line.

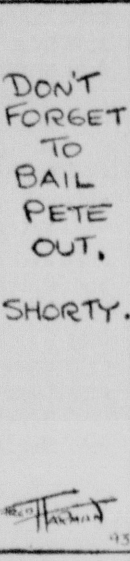

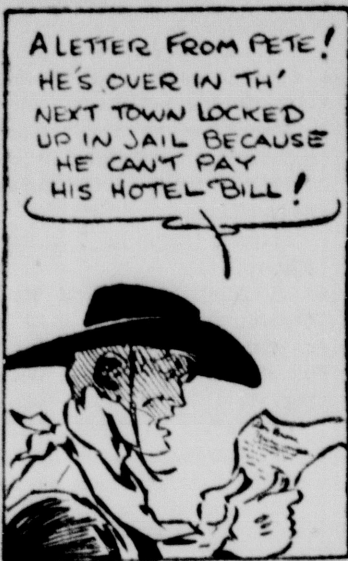

Kipke has predicted an even break in an eight-game schedule. He believes his team has an even chance against Chicago, Illinois, Iowa and Pennsylvania, which ruined Michigan's 10-year inter-sectional supremacy last year. As for Ohio State, he isn't so sure.

The schedule: Oct. 2, Michigan State at Ann Arbor; Oct. 9, Northwestern at Evanston; Oct. 16, Minnesota at Ann Arbor; Oct. 23, Iowa at Iowa City; Oct. 30, Illinois at off in scrimmage. He can't figure out how the outfit escaped with only superficial cuts and bruises.

This week the veteran George Musso was shifted from tackle to guard, and Bjork, who came up as tackle but who was placed at guard, was moved back to tackle. The idea will be tried out in the next National League game with the Pirates in Pittsburgh, Monday night, October 4th.

Musso, who had his tonsils removed a week ago Tuesday, and "Rabbit" Molesworth, whose side was severely bruised in the Green Bay Packer contest, may not be available for the Pittsburgh fracas, while Zuck Carlson, laid up with a badly wrenched knee, will be out indefinitely. Bronko Nagurski "took the air" west for a wrestling date this week but will return, via the sky route, to participate in the Pittsburgh test.

Louis to Quit

San Francisco, Sept. 30—(AP)—World's heavyweight champion Joe Louis wants to quit fighting after his bout with Max Schmeling in New York next June.

Louis, here with his all-Negro softball team on which he plays first base, said he had saved enough money to retire.

"What's the use of fighting after a fellow's won the championship?" asked Louis. "There's nothing to look ahead to."

"Win, lose or draw with Schmeling, I'm going to quit."

Grid Rivalries 42-Years Old Will Continue Friday

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—A pair of 42-year-old high school football rivalries will be renewed in northern Illinois tomorrow when Rockford entertains Beloit, Wis., and Ottawa, plays host to Streator. The first games between the respective opponents were played in 1895.

GIANTS MIGHT CLINCH FLAG, TODAY'S TILT

Phils Stave Off New Yorkers 6-5 To Prolong Agony

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the day the Giants probably will clinch the National league pennant.

The probability is they'll take at least one game of their double-header with the downtrodden Phils, and thus hang onto the flag. If they don't, there's always the possibility the Cubs will drop one to the collapsible Cincinnati Reds—and that will do just as well.

The Giants could have done the job yesterday. After winning the opener of a double bill with the Phils, 6-3, with skyscraper Cliff Melton taking his 20th victory, the Terry Terriers needed only one win to clinch. But the smaller matter of a homer with the bases loaded in the first inning and some fancy flinging by Lefty LaMaster gave the Phils a 6-5 edge on the nightcap.

A five-run Giant rally in the eighth frame, just before the game was called on account of darkness, almost made it a horse from a different garage.

Whip Reds, 3-0

Meantime, the Cubs, playing the million-to-one shot down to the wire, whipped the Reds, 3-0, on the strength of a seven-hit coat of whitewash applied by Tex Carleton.

The Yankees, tuning up their siege guns for the World Series, bombarded the Athletics, 14-5, with a 16-hit attack in the first game of their bargain bill. But young Edgar Smith, a southpaw with plenty of pitching poison, blanked them, 3-0, with one lone hit in the afterpiece, which was called in seven innings.

The Pirates' seven-inning five-run spurge whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-5. The Dodgers and Bees were rained out.

Boston's Red Sox, hoping for a first-division cut of the World Series pot, socked the Senators twice, 3-1 behind Lefty Grove and 7-4 behind Johnny Marcum's effective relief elbowing. The Browns came from behind to squeeze out a 7-6 decision over the Detroit Tigers. Cleveland manager only an even break against the White Sox, taking the opener, 5-4, in 10 innings on Frankie Pytlak's game-winning double, and dropping the abbreviated 4½ inning nightcap, 1-0.

BASE-RUNNING IS NEWARK'S NEED AS THEY LOSE OPENER

Newark, N. J., Sept. 30—(AP)—Base-running, say the old-timers, isn't what it used to be when Ty Cobb was ghosting around the paths. But it's still a fine art that can mean the difference between winning and losing a ball game.

Ask the Newark Bears about it and they'll agree both observations are correct. They learned something about it in the first game of the little World Series yesterday, their lesson contributing heavily to their losing to the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association.

The professor of how not to do it, it happened, was Charley Keller, the Maryland lad who won the International league batting crown this year, his first season in organized baseball. On base three times, he was picked off twice—losing one run for sure and removing himself as a scoring threat the second time.

Newark lost by a one-run margin, 5 to 4.

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Bears was unperturbed. "It's all right," he said. "The kid was just a little too anxious, that's all. He'll learn, don't worry about that."

Manager Burt Shotton named Max Macon, a lefty, to do the throwing in the second game tonight while Vitt picked Alcy Don-

Amboy To Defend Record Unmarred By Oregon Teams

Because Oregon high school is now occupying a brand new building and does not now have a playing field, Amboy will meet that school's eleven next Saturday afternoon on the gridiron at Mount Morris. It will mark the opening of the Rock River Valley conference schedule for both teams.

Amboy's eleven goes into the Oregon fray with a record of two defeats so far this season and with a badly crippled backfield. But these gridsters invade Ogle county with a tradition to uphold—a Dominetta coached football team has never been beaten by Oregon. With that obligation weighing heavily on their shoulders, Amboy's plucky warriors are practicing hard and diligently this week to prepare themselves to meet one of the best teams Oregon has placed on the field in recent years. Oregon lost at Rochelle Saturday by an 18-7 score.

Mysterious John Montague Shoots Brilliant Golf

New York, Sept. 30—(AP)—Mysterious John Montague, the former Laverne Moore of central New York, turned in a brilliant card of 65 at the North Hempstead Country club, Port Washington, N. Y.

Montague's card was five under par on a course he had never seen before. He was out in 32 and back in 33, one stroke over the course record set nearly 10 years ago.

In the party were Grantland Rice, sports writer; Clarence Buddington Kelland, the author; Alex Morrison, golf instructor, and Dr. Leander A. Newman, a member at North Hempstead. Morrison had a 71.

Two Are Ends, Third Bolsters Up Line As Guard

By ROCKY WOLFE

Three southern gentlemen—gentlemen of the rough-neck type, sub, apparently have made the Chicago Bears' football squad, along with five other rookies, who are finding that it is just as much fun playing for currency of the realm as it was "doing and dying" for the glory of dear old Alma Mammy.

The trio in question are Hank Hammond, who gives Southwestern of Memphis its first representation in the post-graduate circuit; Dick Plasman of Vanderbilt, and Bill "Red" Conkright of Oklahoma. The first two are ends and the latter a guard, who drew numerous huzzahs as a center while a Joe College.

see, Dixie Doodle is being done real proud by seven stalwarts, which is not quite one-fourth of the population of Bearsville—the last census recording 30 adults males eligible to wear short pants and travel at the expense of Uncle George Halas.

The others who make this season the greatest as regards southern influence on the club, are the veterans Bill "Kiddy" Karr and Big Joe Stydahar, of West Virginia, and Frank Sullivan, who went from Father Ryan's prep school in Nashville to do four collegiate hitches at Loyola in New Orleans.

The Real McCoy

Incidentally these boys are the McCoy, too. Stydahar was born in Shinnston and Karr in Bristol, West Virginia; Feathers in Ripley, Virginia; Plasman in Miami, Florida; Conkright in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Hammond in Memphis, and Sullivan in Nashville, Tennessee.

When Hammond reported for the initial drill August 16, wearing an especially constructed contraption attached to his helmet for the purpose of protecting his schnazzola, the boys elevated their shaggy eyebrows, not at Hank's misfortune, but at the nerve of a guy who insisted upon playing a hazardous game at its best, under such an apparent handicap—and in the big league!

Those eye-brows started descending after the first day of practice, and at the end of the week were down to normal. Hank practically clinched a berth his first week out. It's a toss-up as to whether he or Karr is the fastest sprinter on the squad.

Plasman, who towers 6 feet, 3 inches, as one of the eight who are that tall or taller, tops Hank by a full four inches, and uses it to good advantage. Conkright, too, has the height and ruggedness so necessary to withstand the brawling and mauling in the forward line.

With the two new wingmen are Les McDonald of Nebraska and George Wilson of Northwestern, Del Bjork of Oregon, and Kay Bell of Washington State, are brother "Freshmen" with Conkright, and in the backfield, Sam Francis of Nebraska and Johnny Bettridge of Ohio State will make their league debuts at Wrigley Field against the Cardinals, October 17.

Survive Competition

These men are survivors of the hottest competition for places on the roster that the club has ever experienced. In fact Coach Halas chased around camp with his fingers crossed when the boys squared

The state corn picking contest will be held at the Frank Grisell farm Monday, Nov. 1. The Grisell farm is four miles west of Lamolille on route 92 and one mile east of Van Orin.

The Woman's club will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 6, at the Congregational church parlors. Mrs. Carl Butterbaugh will give a book review and the hostess will be Mrs. Florence Wagner.

The ladies of the M. E. church will have a chicken dinner on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at the Community hall, the menu being as follows: Fried chicken, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas and carrots, Waldorf salad, beet pickles, biscuits and butter, pie and coffee.

Methodist Episcopal Church
A three-year-old tried to move a table. After she had struggled long, her mother tried to discourage her attempts, saying, "Baby, you can't move that table. It's as big as you are." "Yes, I can," was the little girl's reply. "I'm as big as it is."

There is a great deal of difference between the two ways of looking at the job. Frequently to say, "the task is as big as I am" is to invite defeat. But to say, "I'm as big as the job is," is the first step toward victory. Let us Christians be as big as our task.

Sunday school—10 a. m.

Worship service—11 a. m.

Epworth League—6 p. m.

Does your conscience bother you when the church hour arrives and you haven't made an attempt to get ready to attend. If so, that is a sure sign that you ought to go. It takes less energy, and you will feel better to start out the new week.

H. C. Butterbaugh, Pastor.
Congregational Church
Rev. W. J. Frost, Ph.D., Minister
Services Oct. 3, 1937:

Bible school at 10 a. m. Carl Dawson, superintendent.

Morning worship and communion service at 11 a. m. Reception of members, baptism. Sermon topic, "What It Means to Be a Christian."

Baptist Church
Pastor R. E. Turnbull

"I Press On."
This coming Sunday at 10 a. m. we shall begin our Rally Day and Promotion Exercises of the Sunday school. The theme adopted is "I Press On" and we trust that every member and friend will adopt it too; the children will present a program; the Cradle Roll will be dedicated; the pastor will speak on "The Pressing-on Christian."

In the evening at 7 p. m. (Note the change in time) a candle light communion service will be held which will have as its theme "The Life of Christ," presented by Scripture and song.

We are trying to make this an unusual day; we need your presence to make it a success. Remember the saying, "No one has a right to be counted, unless he can be counted upon."

DELIVERY MADE
 ON SEPTEMBER
 CORN CONTRACT

No Default as Dealers Debate Ill Effects of
 "Corners"

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—As the September corn "corner" was released today to Board of Trade history, leaving only the controversy it aroused to be settled, grain traders discerned a lesson or two in its passing.

"Corners" have a habit of ending dismally, the grain trader's record show and this one was no exception. Besides arousing ill feeling among opposing interests and precipitating and unprecedented dispute between the exchange and some of its members, it created no rosy financial profit for anyone, except possibly a few processors and farmers who could take advantage of the high Chicago price for corn, traders said.

The lessons, depending on various traders' temperaments, were modern adaptations of old moss-covered adages such as "what goes up must come down" and "he who laughs
 last laughs best."

Buyers of September corn took 1,538,000 bushels of cash grain today and sellers thus completed the last act of winding up their accounts. There was no default. A default on market obligations is a high crime on the grain trade, punishable by expulsion.

Contracts involving 6,412,000 bushels were settled on the basis of $1.05 per bushel, established by directors when they suspended trading in September corn Saturday.

The "corner" arose from a scarcity of contract grade corn here.

The richest growth of bamboo is thrive as far north as Japan and to 10,000 feet or higher on the Himalayas.

 distributed as follows:
 Shanghai, 2,517; Peiping-Tientsin

 terior, 1,049; Foochow, Amoy, Swa-tow, 250; Kwangtung Kwang-
 Kweichow provinces and Hainan

Death does not end our friendships true;

We are all debtors to the dead. There wait on everything we do. The splendid souls who've gone ahead;

To them I hold that we are bound By double pledge to be fine. Who once has had a friend has found the one he should make this afternoon at Casper.

The link 'twixt mortal and divine. —Edgar A. Guest.

Nebraska Candidate Governor Ray Cochran of Nebraska has his eye on the senatorial toga of Ed Burke, the red-hot Democratic candidate of New Dealism, but he's done nothing about it publicly.

Burke and Cochran are good friends, campaigned together three years ago as ardent Rooseveltians. Burke then was a little known Congressman who for two years had been 100 per cent loyal to the Administration. Cochran then was State Engineer and reaching to the governorship.

Both were elected on Roosevelt's coat-tails. But once in the Senate, Burke turned a complete flip-flop and became a consistently anti-New Deal as he had been pro-Cochran, however. He has heaved to the Roosevelt bandwagon.

Four years hence Burke and Cochran are likely to campaign again. But this time it will not be together. Friend Cochran will be after friend Burke's scalp.

Merry-Go-Round The appearance of an admiral in full ceremonial dress, including fore-and-aft hat, created a sensation when the presidential party detained at Casper, Wyo., to parade through the city. The officer was Commander Easa Baker, in command of the naval oil reserve at nearby Teapot Dome, and it was explained that regulations require him to wear ornate togs—whether he wants to or not—when calling on the President. . . . To warn members of the entourage that the train is about to start, the engineer is under instructions to blow his whistle three times. In Iowa a newsman was left behind and the train had to back up half a mile to pick him up. . . . In the course of a day the President's car becomes overfilled with flowers presented to Mrs. Roosevelt by local admirers. Each morning the flowers are left in a city for distribution to hospitals.

Typist Freed Of Murder Charge

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Miss Gertrude O'Keefe, 37-year-old Wall street typist, was freed of a first degree murder charge yesterday in connection with the slaying of George O. Frank, 47, New York stock exchange clearing house teller.

The charge was dropped in felony court when Magistrate Charles Solomon, after a 90-minute hearing this morning on the state's attempt to build up a case of circumstantial evidence, declared there was "nothing in the law" on which he could hold her for the grand jury.

The sallow-checked defendant, whom Frank had addressed as "Dear goddess" in a series of 178 love letters written to her during his seven years' courtship, smiled broadly when Magistrate Solomon dismissed the charge.

PWA SPEEDS UP CUPID'S WORK Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—When officials told Donald Butler, 22, of Omaha, he couldn't get a PWA job because he didn't have a wife, he went right out and got married—something he had wanted to do for some time.

His bride was 14-year-old Audrey Mae Eden. They had to go to Iowa to be wed as Nebraska law sets the feminine marriage age limit at 16 even with parents' consent.
